BARCELONA, SPAIN

A vibrant market stall with colorful textiles and goods. The background is filled with stacks of colorful fabrics, including a large patchwork quilt in shades of purple, red, and gold. To the right, there are rolls of fabric with various patterns and colors. In the foreground, there are stacks of colorful bags and shoes, and a large, circular, brown leather bag with a white geometric pattern. A warm light fixture is visible on the left side.

MEDITERRANEAN FEATURED PORTS

CASABLANCA, MOROCCO

The seaside Hassan II Mosque holds 25,000 worshippers inside, and 80,000 in the courtyard. Visit the Medina to sample Moroccan culture, or opt for longer UNESCO Partner Tours to imperial Rabat or colorful Marrakesh.

AGADIR, MOROCCO

On the Atlantic coast of North Africa, Agadir is full of surprising wonders like The Agadir Oufella ruins (also known as the Kasbah), golden sand beaches, the Souk El Had d'Agadir which is one of the country's largest markets, and the rich history of the old city, parks and sand dunes.

LAS PALMAS, CANARY ISLANDS

An exotic mix of Spanish and African cultures, with touches of the New World, this island city is home to the Museo Canaria, beautiful beaches, the fascinating Elder Museum of Science and Technology, and the UNESCO World Heritage section of town, La Vegueta, and its nearby shops and cafés.

MÁLAGA (GRANADA), SPAIN

The birthplace of Pablo Picasso, Málaga wine, and a style of flamenco, Málaga is an incredibly interesting glimpse at life in southern Spain through the ages. First settled by the Phoenicians, Málaga has been a capital of many dynasties, as evidenced by two Moorish fortresses still standing today.

PALMA DE MALLORCA, SPAIN

Spain's sunny Mediterranean outpost is a pleasant spot boasting a shady plaza near the Gothic Cathedral. Perhaps journey to the enchanting village of Valldemossa, but leave time to shop for false (but lovely) Majorica pearls and handmade lace.

TOULON (CÔTE D'AZUR), FRANCE

Everything you think of when picturing the idyllic French Mediterranean comes to life in Toulon, a historic Old Town along the Harbor, narrow streets and small squares, museums of art and history, warm beaches, and grand waterfront hillsides.

PROPRIANO (BONIFACIO), CORSICA, FRANCE

From Bonifacio's white cliffsides, walled Old Town, and steep staircase to the sea you can clearly see across a narrow strait to the island of Sardinia, Italy. Close by, the quaint yacht harbor of Propriano beckons with medieval buildings, archeological sites and sophisticated beaches.

FRÉJUS, FRANCE

Once a major port of ancient Rome, modern-day Fréjus is home to well-preserved ruins such as aqueducts, stone walls and an amphitheatre. The medieval cathedral and cloisters, the Chapel of Notre Dame de Jerusalem — and the 60-acre gardens at the Palladian Villa Aureliene — are all equally impressive.

SAINT-RAPHAËL, FRANCE

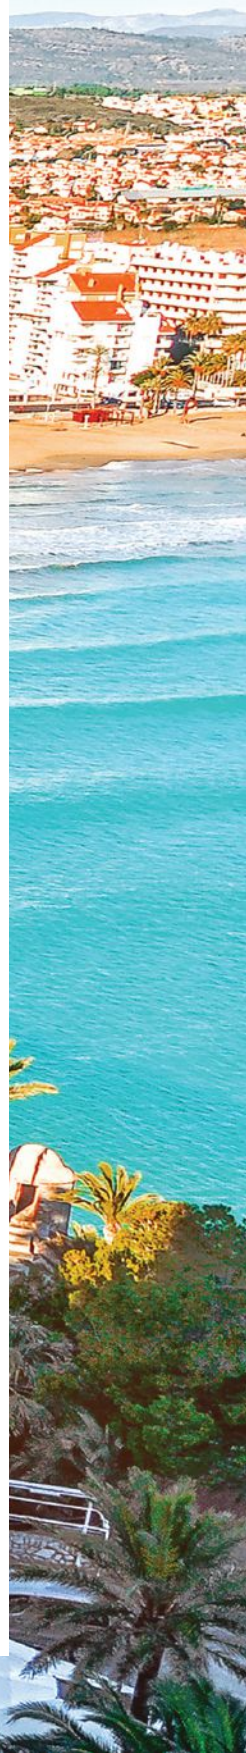

In the heart of the French Riviera, Saint-Raphaël has been popular for centuries. It was first a beach resort for the Roman Empire, then a jazz destination in the 1920s and '30s and today a coastal architectural wonder with two huge cathedrals and a medieval watchtower perched above the city.

GOLFO ARANCI, SARDINIA, ITALY

The Sardinian coastline is serrated by deep-cut coves of sparkling sea, surrounded by rocky prominences and edged in lovely strands of beach. The Aga Khan fell in love with the place, and dubbed it the Costa Smeralda, creating a magnet for the global glitterati, who adore its silvery white sands.

VALENCIA, SPAIN

Located in Europe's most dense agricultural region, Valencia was originally a Greek settlement, before being turned into a retirement village for Roman soldiers in 138 BC. Later, the Moors controlled the land before and after El Cid, before it permanently became part of Spain in the 15th century.

SANARY-SUR-MER, FRANCE

The rarest thing on the Côte d'Azur is a working fishing town. On tiny Embiez island offshore is an environmental winery created by the heir of the Ricard pastis company, with strict conservation policies.

PORTOFERRAIO, ITALY

Though small, Elba has been known since the beginnings of recorded history – prized by empire after empire for its rich soil and abundance of minerals and gems. Napoleon's famous exile in the 1800s still bears signs of his stay here, yet the largely agricultural island is serene and timeless.

PORTOVENERE (CINQUE TERRE), ITALY

The "Golfo dei Poeti," inspired Dante, Petrarch, Byron and Shelley with ancient houses and a dominant 12th-century citadel. Explore the grotto where Byron pondered, or climb the castle beside St. Peter's church for a view of the Cinque Terre villages.

GIBRALTAR, BRITISH OVERSEAS TERRITORY

Fabled to be one of the Pillars of Hercules that marked the edge of the world, "The Rock" of Gibraltar is a towering monolith of limestone and marble with natural caves, manmade tunnels and geological significance. Its position between Africa and Europe makes for a fascinating history.

AMALFI, ITALY

IBIZA, SPAIN

Glistening with whitewashed houses and a sandstone walled city at the top of the hillside, Ibiza is often called Isla Blanca or White Island. Tranquil beachfront coves, high-end fashion, a thriving art scene, renaissance architecture and Michelin-starred restaurants are all lesser-known treats.

CARTAGENA (MURCIA), SPAIN

In the 3rd century BC, the Romans seized the rich harbor town of Cartagena from Carthage in a famous battle. The 2,000-year-old amphitheatre, an altar to Jupiter, and other ruins remain alongside colonial architecture, grand museums, military forts and castles, and other monuments to history.

AMALFI, ITALY

One of the two main towns on the famed Amalfi drive, Amalfi is known for its stunning beaches, majestic Duomo di Sant'Andrea cathedral, colorful Majolica tiles, the Chiostro del Paradiso cloister gardens and The Museo della Carta where you can make paper using the traditional medieval methods.

VALLETTA, MALTA

Diversity thrives in Malta, which has been occupied by the Phoenicians, Greeks, Carthaginians, Romans, Arabs, French and British throughout history. Valletta, the current-day capital echoes a rich past that includes the St. John's Co-Cathedral and Museum, Palace of the Grand Masters and many fortifications.

ST. TROPEZ, FRANCE

The modern glamour never really deserts this town famous for Bardot and a film festival, but the venerable village perched of Grimaud in the nearby Maures Massif has an 11th-century Grimaud Castle with links to Monaco's ruling Grimaldis.

LA CIOTAT, FRANCE

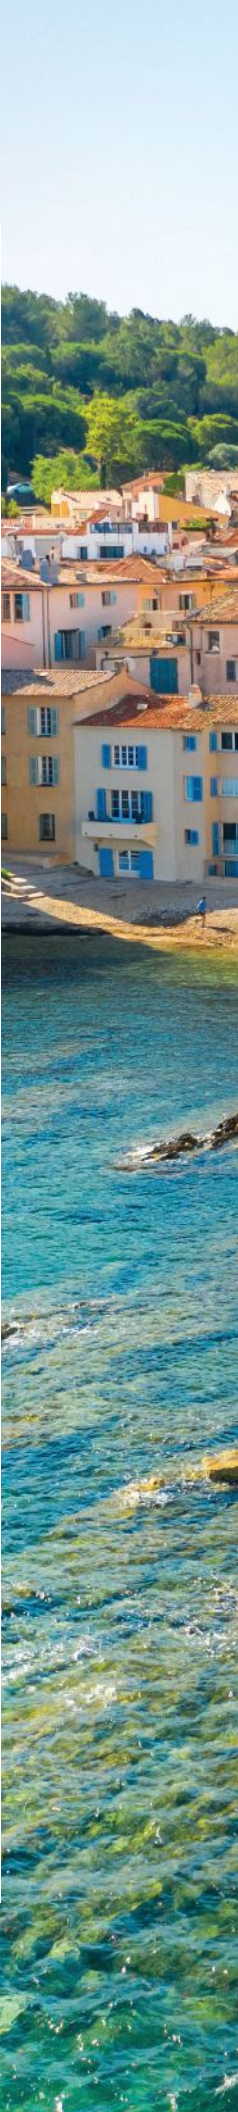

With its quintessential French Riviera atmosphere, La Ciotat was actually the original cinema hot-spot on the Côte d'Azur, well before Cannes and St. Tropez. Besides gorgeous beaches, it is home to the first commercial film in history and the birthplace of color photography.

PALAMÓS, SPAIN

Located at the foot of the mountains on Spain's rugged Costa Brava, Palamós boasts seven superb beaches, Iberian archaeological remains from the year 6 BC and the Church of Sant Esteve on the beach. Highlighting the town center is its 16th-century cathedral.

PORTOFINO, ITALY

Portofino is a popular, picturesque resort village on the Italian Riviera, favored by artists and travelers for its breathtaking views of villas arrayed like an immense, colorful amphitheatre on steep slopes above a cerulean bay.

L'ÎLE-ROUSSE, FRANCE

Located on the northwest coast of Corsica, L'Île-Rousse was originally founded in the 18th century and named for the distinctive red rocks that color the shore. A charming main square and 120-year-old date palms are in the main town. Or, head to the lighthouse for views above the village.

LEIXÕES (PORTO), PORTUGAL

The commercial center of northern Portugal and hub of the port wine trade, Porto is a gracious, cosmopolitan city noted for its 12th-century cathedral and medieval churches, picturesque narrow streets, wine lodges at Vila Nova de Gaia and hidden Baroque treasures.

MARBELLA, SPAIN

With its ten bronze sculptures by Salvador Dalí lining the Avenida del Mar, one of the prettiest Old Towns in the Andalusian region, charming year-round festivals and some of the country's best shopping, Marbella is a Mediterranean gem with all the warmth of Spain.

MARSEILLE (PROVENCE), FRANCE

France's second-largest city is comprised of sixteen walkable neighborhoods, local cafés, boutiques, and monuments that survived WWII mostly intact. The fortresses of St. Jean and St. Nicolas stand alongside the harbor and the city's oldest church, Basilique St. Victor is near the city center.

ERHÖHUNG DER GEBIETEN

FRANZ JOSEPH I.
KONIG VON BOHEMEN
Kaiser von Österreich
1848-1916

The background of the page is a photograph of European architecture. On the left, there is a white building with blue window frames and a balcony. On the right, there is a large, ornate building with a green roof and many windows. In the foreground, there is a stone balustrade with decorative columns.

EPHESUS, TURKEY

ADRIATIC & GREEK ISLES

FEATURED PORTS

AGIOS NIKÓLAOS, CRETE, GREECE

This major resort town in Crete is a tale of two waters, the seas of Mirabello Bay and the island's famous Lake Voulismeni. Both waterfronts are lined with cafés, shops and sunny beaches. Walk around town to discover statues to Greek mythology, local olive oil and folk art.

KUŞADASI, TURKEY

This Turkish town is a gateway for Ephesus, renowned in antiquity. The ornate Library of Celsus, the Temple of Artemis (Diana) and the Theater, where Paul addressed the Ephesians, are all connected by shining marble streets.

MYKONOS, NISOS MYKONOS, GREECE

This quintessential Greek island is known for its whitewashed houses, domed churches, windmills and dashes of bright blue from doors, shutters, window frames, and the sea and sky. Explore the colorful harbor on foot, or hop on a scooter to cruise by beaches, bistros and shops.

BOZCAADA, TURKEY

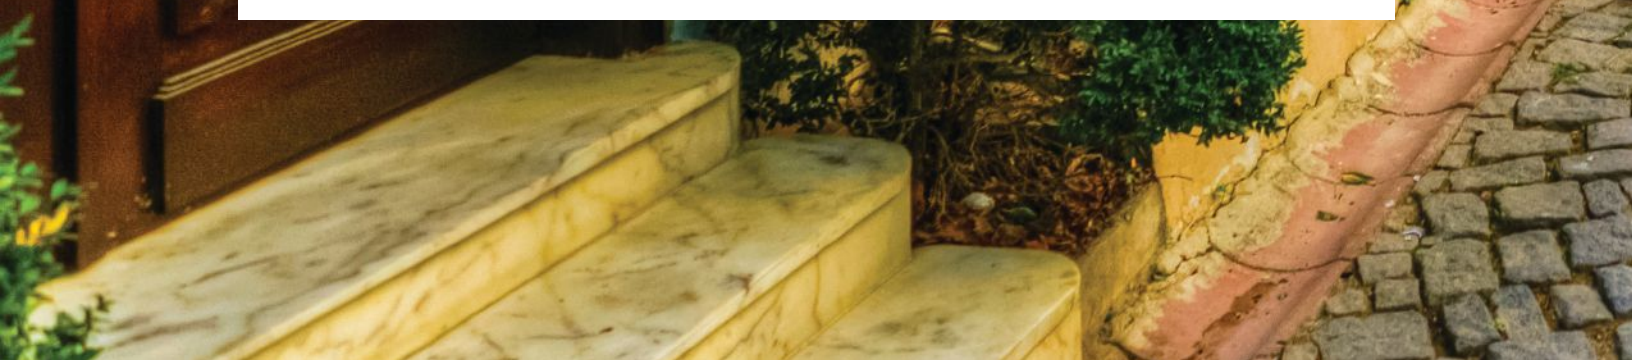

Just off the Turkish mainland, this tiny island is an unspoiled haven of cobblestone streets, vineyards and diverse architecture. The main fortress reflects influences from Byzantine, Venetian, Genoese and Ottoman empires and the hilltop lighthouse offers amazing Aegean Sea views.

SKOPELOS, GREECE

Legend says Skopelos was created by Dionysus because of its history of wine. Today, the isle is popular for its appearance in the film, Mamma Mia; its historically preserved Pelion-style houses; Folklore Museum; local honey; and more than 360 churches.

PÁTAMOS, GREECE

According to myth, Artemis and Apollo entreated to Zeus to raise Pátmos from the sea. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site important to Christian history. A monastery overlooks a cave believed to be where St. John wrote the biblical Book of Revelations.

MYRINA, GREECE

According to Greek mythology, this volcanic island was once home to Hephaestus, the Greek god of fire and forge, and the legendary Golden Fleece. The real-life ruins of Poliochni are some of the world's oldest and the city's impressive 13th-century Byzantine castle are both must-see attractions.

ÇEŞME, TURKEY

As a destination that's off the typical tourist path, Çeşme has a quiet authenticity in its charm. Uncrowded beaches, rolling fields of olive trees, bougainvillea-lined streets, hot springs, local art, a medieval castle and other historic sites all wait to welcome you.

SYMI, GREECE

Tucked into a rocky cove, Symi is framed by colorful neoclassical houses with stairs to the upper towns of Ano Symi and Kastro. The Monastery of Archangel Michael with its elaborate bell tower is a major highlight, as are dozens of other churches, chapels and a Dove of Peace war memorial.

SANTORÍNI, GREECE

Santoríni's anchorage, between sheer walls of a collapsed volcanic caldera, is an iconic Greek isles harbor. Ascend to Thira, the gleaming white town at the top, or continue to atmospheric Oia for breathtaking views.

ERMOUPOLI, GREECE

Named for Hermes, the messenger of the gods, this is a city rich in history from many periods. The archaeological and industrial museums chronicle a legacy of shipbuilding through the centuries — and the Eastern Orthodox Church holds an icon by the famed painter, El Greco.

LIVADI, ITALY

A small island with a large yachting harbor, Livadi boasts some of the loveliest sand beaches in the entire Mediterranean. Elsewhere on the island, see the old mining trails and the “bridge to nowhere,” or visit (and sit upon) the fabled Cyclops Throne.

LIMASSOL, CYPRUS

Along with ten miles of meandering shoreline, Limassol features mountain villages, castles and basilicas, ancient archaeological sites dating back to 7,000 BC, vineyards, an upscale marina town with friendly restaurants and chic fashion and jewelry boutiques.

ZAKINTHOS, GREECE

Famous for its isolated “Shipwreck Beach,” which is accessible only by boat, this seaside is dotted by breathtaking rock arches and other stone formations that appear to float in the water. The harbor town and its Venetian castle offer panoramic views of both the sea and city.

PARGA, GREECE[≈]

Lovely Parga curls around a sandy beach between two stone outcroppings. Colorful houses meander up the hillside, topped by a Venetian Castle. It is the perfect backdrop for a day of fun with our watersports Marina (conditions permitting).

TROGIR, CROATIA

This UNESCO World Heritage Site is home to the Cathedral of St. Lawrence which dates back to the 1200s and includes the Chapel of St. John, considered one of Europe’s top Renaissance highlights. The city walls, palaces and upscale waterfront are other memorable locales to explore.

PIRAN, SLOVENIA

From the walled city of Piran, there are a number of fascinating destinations nearby. The fresco of the Danse Macabre dwells within a local medieval church. The UNESCO-cited caves of Skojan are moments away. And, the famed Lippizaner horses are raised right here.

[≈] Marina Days and Caviar in the Surf[®] are weather and conditions permitting and are available in select destinations.

SKÍATHOS, GREECE

Skíathos is a popular Sporades island blessed with forests, fruit and olive orchards, and vineyards. Its 60 beaches include the famous Koukounaries and remote Lalaria with its picturesque rock arch.

ISTANBUL, TURKEY

Byzantium's domes and minarets are unmistakable. This is the Golden Horn, the door between East and West. Hagia Sophia, the Blue Mosque and Topkapi Sarai await—as does the Grand Bazaar, laden with carpets, beaten brass and spices from afar.

IZMIR (PERGAMON), TURKEY

The birthplace of the epic poet Homer, Izmir has grown into a thriving metropolis with a sweeping bayfront. Museums of archaeology and ethnography and the remnants of ancient Smyrna's 4th-century fort atop Mt. Pagos are interesting glimpses into the city's rich past.

VIS, CROATIA

Behind this island's scenic outlooks and picturesque harbor, Vis has a fascinating story with secret WWII operations, traditional fishing villages, local vineyards producing "Vuvaga" white wine and "Plavac" red wine as well as appearances in Hollywood films.

SYRACUSE, ITALY

Its incredible wealth of well-preserved historic monuments, spanning the Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Ottoman and Baroque eras prompted UNESCO to name the entire city of Syracuse a World Heritage Site.

VODICE (ŠIBENIK), CROATIA

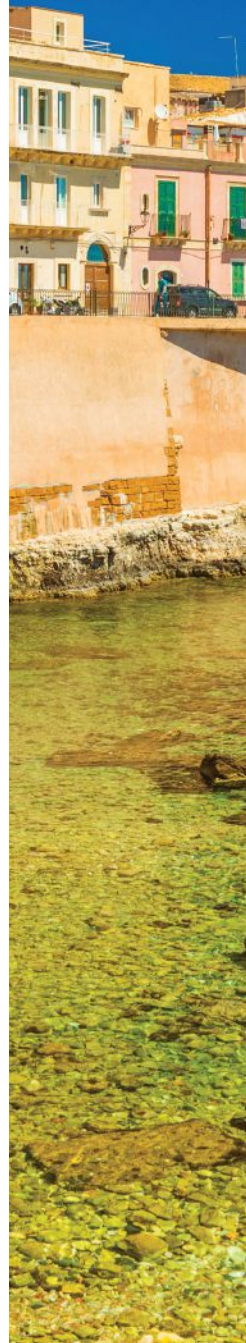

Among the familiar red-tiled roofs of the Dalmatian Coast, you'll find the towers and manors from the 17th century, the Parish Church of St. Cross from 1746, the old Church of St. Cross from 1402, and the Church of St. Elijah from 1298. Roman ruins date back even further, to around 160 BC.

KOPER, SLOVENIA

Formerly an island port with Greek, Roman and Byzantine ties — and once the most influential city in the Venetian Empire — the Golden Age of Koper can still be found in the cobblestone streets of an Old Town which boasts a wealth of architecture, cultural monuments and intriguing shops.

HVAR, CROATIA

From the 12th through 18th centuries, Hvar served as the harbor for the Venetian fleet, and fortifications from this time period still exist today. Modern Hvar is a quiet sailing and fishing town with winding streets, a huge piazza and vineyards and lavender fields on the hillsides.

KOTOR, MONTENEGRO

KOTOR, MONTENEGRO

A cluster of medieval towns hug the sinuous shores of the Bay of Kotor. Winding picturesquely between two looming massifs, it is one of Europe's most breathtaking harbors. Together, they comprise a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

CHANIA, GREECE

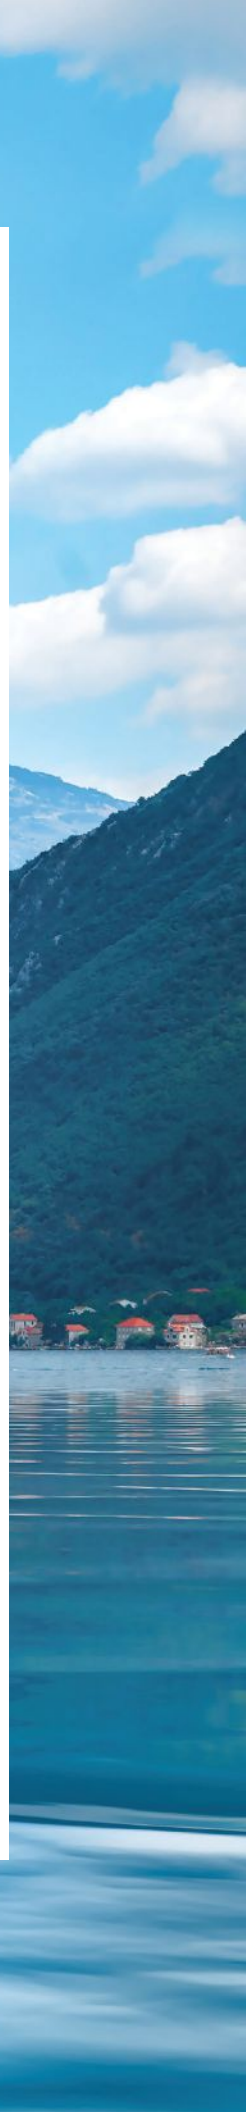

Chania is a land of exotic beauty and sandy beaches at the foot of imposing mountains. Large caves, rivers, lush green plains, and rich flora and fauna surround the harbor and its old-meets-new mix of Venetian fortifications from the 1500s and modern buildings and storefronts.

SÁMI, CEPHALONIA, GREECE

This lovely harbor on Cephalonia is close to Antisamos beach, the setting for the film Captain Corelli's Mandolin; the ethereal beauty of the underground lake in Melissani Cave; and to the ruins of ancient Sámi, occupied for millennia.

MONEMVASIA, GREECE

Its name means 'one entrance' and this tall isle has only one way in. Honeycombed with grottoes, narrow alleys and rock-carved rooms, the narrow pathways lead up to the Byzantine Ayia Sophia church, and a medieval fortress and walls.

AN EVENING AT EPHESUS

When the ancient site of Ephesus is closed to visitors, Seabourn guests are treated to the ultimate private cocktail party in this amazing archaeological wonder. Enjoy a magical evening – wine, cocktails and canapés welcome you while an orchestra's repertoire of classical music plays within the famous ruins.
