BEYOND EXPLORATION

Five experiences that only Le Commandant Charcot offers you in Greenland

1 REACHING THE UNREACHABLE

The only passenger ship in the world with a Polar Class 2 (PC2) hull, Le Commandant Charcot can navigate in multi-year ice for much of the year. At the end of winter, it takes you to the frozen Greenland coast, which is still inaccessible to traditional ships at this time.

2 EXPERTISE AND IMMERSION

With you are around 20 naturalist guides, true experts of the region, who explain the history of the region, the landforms, the fauna and flora. The crew on the bridge are experienced in sailing through ice.

Dog sledding, snowshoe trekking, ice fishing, polar diving, kayaking, meetings with local communities: experience an authentic connection with Greenland. To immortalise these unique events, the Photo Ambassadors on board offer lectures and practical workshops throughout the voyage.

3 INSIDE - OUTSIDE, THE INVISIBLE FRONTIER

On board, the 123 staterooms and communal areas are designed as cocoons that open wide to the grandiose scenery and extreme environments around them. The Blue Lagoon - an open-air lagoon heated using energy recovery - the indoor swimming pool, the snow cabin, detox bar in the spa and the Cigar lounge are some of the unique spaces offered by Le Commandant Charcot within our fleet.

4 THE ONLY ALAIN DUCASSE RESTAURANT AT SEA

Nuna (meaning 'Earth' in Inuit) offers a gourmet menu devised by Michelin-starred chef Alain Ducasse, as well as some of his signature dishes. Delicate flavours are combined with refined tableware to achieve an unparalleled level of excellence in such isolated surroundings.

5 MORE ECO-FRIENDLY AND COMMITTED SAILINGS

Le Commandant Charcot uses the most advanced technologies and is Green Globe certified, the internationally recognised benchmark for more sustainable tourism. The aim is to reduce the ship's environmental footprint as much as possible in the regions it visits, by combining electric propulsion and liquefied natural gas.

Equipped with two research laboratories, in 2024 Le Commandant Charcot took on board more than 80 scientists working for more than 20 research institutes, including the CNRS and GEOMAR.
