— UNEXPECTED ALASKA

America's most remote and rugged wilderness promises dogsled rides across vast glaciers, flightseeing expeditions over fjords and waterfalls, and opportunities to observe wildlife such as orcas and bears in their natural habitat. Vestiges of Gold Rush history are embraced by a panorama of stunning scenery in towns like Valdez and Wrangell, while some of the world's largest collections of totem poles preserve the culture of Alaska Natives in Ketchikan and Klawock. For all of the wonders you may expect to discover in Alaska, this land will still find ways to surprise you. Perhaps it will be the thrill of riding the world's longest zipline over the rainforest of Icy Strait Point or the awe of watching an eagle catch its prey at Chilkat Bald Eagle Preserve in Haines. The local cuisine also offers unexpected delights, from the delicate sweetness of Dungeness crab to the rich flavor of freshly caught salmon to a delicious fish taco from a food truck in Juneau.
